

Anti-Money-Laundering Policy

Objective

Prevent the bank from being used to launder proceeds of crime or to finance terrorism, through customer due diligence, ongoing monitoring, and reporting.

Customer Due Diligence

CDD is performed at onboarding, when there is a material change, and when there is doubt about earlier data. Enhanced due diligence applies to politically exposed persons, non-face-to-face customers, and customers from high-risk jurisdictions.

Transaction Monitoring

Automated scenarios flag structuring, rapid movement of funds, dormant-account reactivation with high value, and transactions inconsistent with the customer profile.

Alerts are dispositioned within 10 working days.

Reporting

Cash transaction reports for aggregated cash above INR 10 lakh per month and suspicious transaction reports are filed with the Financial Intelligence Unit within the prescribed timelines. STRs are confidential and tipping-off is prohibited.

Record Retention

CDD records and transaction records are retained for 5 years after the relationship ends or the transaction date respectively.
